“ Barry was the third person I met on my very first day with Exxon on June 23, 1975. Evidently I was impressed. What a man. A tough taskmaster but always fair. If you screwed up he had either done it or he had heard your excuse before. Not too much got passed him. I will always remember his as a mentor but above all a great friend. Barry, when you see Pat tell her Noni and I said hello. Good bye my friend. Charlie Parker

“ It is much more satisfying working for someone whom you respect and who respects you. The offshore SYU gang were happy working for BK, of course he might be mildly embarrassed to know that, he likely thought they were working for the company. Great laugh, coverall sleeves rolled up over those big forearms, BK didn't sweat the small stuff, and you felt better when he was onboard. He was a Navy man and good to be around. Not too chatty, you knew he was going to do the right thing; that's the kind of man you want to be your boss. We were the lucky ones. Smooth sailing BK!! Dan Bolton

“ I will always remember Barry as the ultimate poster child for an "Oil Man". He looked tough as nails and in time of crisis he always had our back. Those of us who worked with him also new he was a gentle soul, who loved his family and friends.

I knew Barry for 41 years, working with him for 24 years of those years. He was a mentor and a dear friend. I always felt reassured knowing "BK" was aboard during the years we worked offshore together. He always took the time to ask about our family, he was that kind of man. Barry was a man of intense loyalty and integrity, a man I am proud to call a friend.

We will miss "BK" but we know that God has called him home to rest. We know Barry will continue to watch over his family and friends from above. We wish you peace and love "BK", may God bless you and those you leave behind.

*Your buddy,
Fred Avalos*
