“ Zoe was one of the finest and most remarkable persons I had the privilege of knowing. I met her relatively early in my career when she was with the Kern County Office of Education and I was with the Kings County Office. What an honor and pleasure to have learned so much from her, and to have been blessed with her friendship. I am grateful for many opportunities we had to collaborate with each other on numerous projects and presentations related to history-social science. She was a wise, gracious, and lovely woman, with a wonderful smile and a delightful (and sometimes mischievous) sense of humor. "Our loss is God's gain," someone once said. But we look forward in faith and hope to meeting her again on the brighter shore. -- Rod Atkinson, Hanford, CA
