“ *I wish I was back in your arms
Looking back to where we are now
That we had overcome
All of this somehow
And reached that place where
Every morning I'd awaken
And see your face
Knowing that the best days of life
Are at hand
That we could look back to a land
We both knew
Where together we'd
Continue to learn
The secrets of our souls
But that's not what happened
Our story came to its end
No more walks together
Holding hands
Along the shore
Barefoot in the sand
The best days of my life
Was you
Right there holding my hand*

*Missy
Breathe in me... deep
That I might breathe... and live
And hold me close that I might sleep
Soft held by all you give
Come kiss me, wind, and take my breath
Till you and I are one
And we will dance among the tombs
Until all death is gone
And no one knows that we exist
Wrapped in each other's arms*

*Except the One who blew the breath
That hides me safe from harm
Come kiss me, wind, and take my breath
Till you and I are one
And we will dance among the tombs
Until all death is gone*

“ It's almost one year since the day she slipped away. I didn't know what to do so I'll just continue love her. I still do the little things only she would notice, just certain ways of being that she would approve. They're the best part of me and No one can truly see what it's done to me to lose the love she gave me. I'm thankful that we shared life together and she exists within me always. I will cherish our memories and I will always miss my dear sweet wife.

Grief has grown and changed alongside me as three years time has passed. Different milestones of life Have added understanding to my perceptions of what her death means to me and I've kept a candle burning for her in my memories.
