

Chloe Love Charron

January 9, 2003 - May 4, 2020

Chloe Love was the brightest light in a dark, dark world. She was so loving, so kind, so strong, so giving, so compassionate, so incredibly smart, so talented in anything she set out to do, so hilarious, so breathtakingly amazing. Her outer beauty was only rivaled by her inner. The world was robbed. Her son was robbed, he will never know the sacrifice she made so he could have a better life, he will never know how much she truly loved him. Her brothers and sisters were robbed. Her whole family, her friends, new friends she hadn't made yet, and family she'd yet to see. All robbed. Her life was cut too short. She will be missed for all the days that remain by all she knew. So many milestones missed, too many memories yet to be made. She was the definition of love to everyone in her life. She was the most amazing person you ever met, and if you hadn't met her yet then she would have been. Chloe is survived by her son Isaiah Rey. Her siblings Ellemae, Caeden, John, Crosby, Coralee. Her mother Megan Charron. Grandmother Sandra Crosby. Great grandpa Thomas Crosby. She is welcomed into the gates of heaven by her great grandmother Bettie Crosby. They'll be up there making pancakes for us all.
