“ Kaitlyn and Alexander Scrivener, we weren't raised with a father but Dave took the plate and still raised us when he didn't have to. My grandpa was like a second father to me and now he's gone and Everyone is lost. We have been lost for sometime now. And I know he's no longer suffering or in pain and he's where the angels are. That's where all the best people are. My grandfather will always live on through us. And I hope to see him again one day, I know I will see him again one day. He was a guardian angel down on earth, I can only imagine that he's watching over us now❤️ I love you so so much grandpa and I'm sorry that we couldn't be there, we will be very very soon. I love you. Rest in peace❤️ It's okay if you go, we're gonna hurt a little but you're only making us stronger💔 You're with uncle Wayne and that makes us all at a little peace.❤️

“ David R Fleming, born June 24th 1932, was literally the sweetest, hardworking man. He cared for his wife, Loretta Fleming, for 30+ years, and even in his old age he was still madly in love with her, he only ever wanted to be with her. Til the day he passed.. Within that time Dave raised my mother, Wendy Steffes and no she was not his biological daughter but he loved her and took her in and always stood by her like she was. He also raised me and my brother

You weren't even around how would you know.

Kaitlyn Diane - February 27, 2020 at 10:09 AM

Oh my bad, YOU were around once. You guys are so selfish when his DAUGHTER should've been there. Karmas going to come around. Keep my grandfathers name out of your mouth . He didn't even like you.

Kaitlyn Diane - February 27, 2020 at 10:10 AM

Oh my bad YOU GUYS DIDNT EVEN GOVE HIM THE CHANCE. Write something honest down rather than your stupid pity lies. My grandpa was a hardworking good man that you and your mother didn't give a chance. You guys were never around. And then you have the nerve to leave his only breathing daughter out of his funeral, acting like he's your dad. You guys shouldn't be there. We should be. But your selfish ways couldn't think of anything else. Don't you think my Grandma, Loretta, should have her only child there to help her grieve? But no . You guys are there when the actual people who did love him are stuck. Thanks so much "family" loving seeing your real colors. But just know that David Reynard Fleming was the single most hardworking man and not only did he raise 3 of his own kids, he also raised my mom and uncle and then on top of that he also raised me and Alex, he was so sweet and caring and he sacrificed EVERYTHING for us. I don't know another man like that.
