

Jennifer Carol Hicks-James

December 17, 1971 - August 21, 2020

Jennifer Carol Hicks James. 49, passed away Wednesday, August 26, 2020 at her home in Bakersfield, California. She was born February 17, 1971 in El Paso, TX to John Randall Hicks (deceased) and Anita Carol (Boston, Hicks) Zeisler.

Jenny is survived by her devoted husband of sixteen years, Scott James. Her loving parents, Carol and Steve Zeisler – Hockessin, DE, grieve her passing, along with her half-sisters, Rebecca (Andy Stetson) - Lubbock, TX, and Emily (David Baroody) – Coventry, RI; her paternal grandmother, Katie Marie Hicks – San Antonio, TX; and her maternal grandmother, Gypsy Damaris Boston – Ida, LA. In addition, Jenny was fortunate enough to be loved by many aunts and uncles, and even more first, second, third and fourth cousins.

Jenny spent her childhood years in Shreveport, Bossier and Metairie, Louisiana. Her family moved to Atlanta, GA, and later to Hockessin, DE. After attending McKean High School, she attended and received her BS degree from the University of DE , where her studies were focused on Food Science and Nutrition. While working on her advanced degree and Registered Dietician certification, Jenny was a nutritional counselor for the WIC program in Delaware.

Jenny's move from Delaware took her to Montrose, Colorado for a few years before her move to Bakersfield, California where she met, married and remained with her dedicated husband, Scott.

All areas of art always delighted Jenny, but she had a special flair for combining colors and textures and left her bright touches where ever she went. In addition, her cheerful optimism was an inspiration for all who knew and were lucky enough to spend time with her.

Jenny would want us all to share her hope and cheerful outlook as we honor her memory. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be given to your local food bank or the charity of your choice.

Funeral services will be private.
