“ Melvin was a sweet man. We met a few years back and becomes friends instantly. I would call him now and then to check up on him and we had long talks about trains, politics and the fun he had when he was young going to the mountains. He always spoke lovingly about his sons, daughter in law and grand kids Tabitha and Josh and most recently told me how handsome his new great grand son was. Melvin was very knowledgeable about most any topic we'd discuss. He'd give me advice on whatever I needed to ask him about. I'll miss my dear friend. (Norma)
